

A.M. SHAIKH HOMOEOPATHIC MEDICAL COLLEGE, PG & RESEARCH CENTRE
ORGANIZED AWARENESS PROGRAM ON WATER BORNE DISEASES

In a bid to spread awareness about water borne diseases A.M. Shaikh homoeopathic Medical College organized an awareness drive recently. the programme was held at a nearby village Honaga. Under the awareness programme the students of college along with faculty visited the rural areas and made people aware about safe drinking water. They also educated them about how this can help in preventing water borne diseases.

Addressing the gathering Dr. V R Kulkarni said that water borne diseases are generally caused by polluted water from contamination of human or animal wastes in the water. He advised the people to make sure that the water is visibility clean. He further asked the people to make sure that the stored water is free from germs and clean for later use.

The event was graced by PDO Gram Panchayat Homaga. The event was coordinated by Dr. V R Kulkarni, HOD, Department of Community Medicine and supported by Dr. C.M. Moogi, Principal, A.M. Shaikh Homoeopathic Medical College, PG & Research Centre.
